The Federal Territories Islamic Religious Council's Zakat Collection Centre (PPZ-MAIWP) has established an online platform for Muslims to pay zakat fitrah during Ramadan following the Movement Control Order (MCO).

PPZ-MAIWP CEO Ahmad Shukri Yusoff said Muslims residing in Kuala Lumpur are advised to stay home as they can conduct their religious duty through the fitrah.zakat.com.my portal.

"PPZ-MAIWP is aware of the current need for Muslims to conduct their religious duties.

"We have set up an online payment channel to facilitate Muslims to pay their zakat fitrah with ease and avoid movement of large groups at zakat counters and mosques," he said in a statement.

He added that the channel will be activated during the month of Ramadan, between April 24 and May 23.

Following the current economic situation, the religious council has set two zakat fitrah rates this year, at RM5 and RM7, to ease the burden of those who are more economically hit by the MCO.

"MAIWP with the approval of Federal Territories Syarak Consultative Committee, has set two rates for zakat fitrah, RM7 and RM5. The lower rate is hoped to assist less-capable Muslims in carrying out their duty," he said.

Meanwhile, Ahmad Shukri said PPZ-MAIWP has collected RM1.75 million for the PPZ Musaadah Khaira Special Relief Fund through donations from several corporations.

The relief fund was established on April 1 to help Malaysians who are affected by the MCO, including the below 40% income households (B40), small traders and individuals who rely on daily incomes.

Among the benefactors are Tenaga Nasional Bhd, Permodalan Nasional Bhd, Malakoff Corp Bhd, FGV Holdings Bhd and Etiqa Family Takaful Bhd.

Ahmad Shukri said the fund, which was opened for application beginning April 1 until 9, had received more than 100,000 applications from individuals and small firms throughout the country.

"PPZ-MAIWP is grateful for the donations from these corporations and their support of our cause to help those who are in need during this challenging time," he said.

Lima kaunter cawangan PPZ-MAIWP yang dibuka terdiri dari Ibu pejabat PPZ-MAIWP, di Taman Shamelin Perkasa, Kuala Lumpur; Presint 15, Putrajaya; Wangsa Maju; Taman Tun Dr Ismail dan Labuan.

Pada tahun ini MAIWP dengan persetujuan Jawatankuasa Perundingan Hukum Syara Wilayah Persekutuan menetapkan dua kadar zakat fitrah, iaitu RM5 dan RM7 bagi meringankan beban umat Islam kurang berkemampuan.

Ahmad Shukri berkata, pihaknya akan mematuhi segala arahan dan tatacara kawalan yang ditetapkan oleh pihak Majlis Keselamatan Negara (MKN) dan Kementerian Kesihatan Malaysia (KKM) perlu dipatuhi ketika urusan pembayaran di kaunter.

Katanya, orang ramai juga boleh mendapatkan resit pembayaran dan disertakan dengan doa ditulis di paparan skrin komputer sebelum resit dicetak.

Sementara itu di Bukit Mertajam, Zakat Pulau Pinang (ZPP) akan meneruskan pembayaran zakat fitrah menggunakan kaedah konvensional bagi membantu golongan lebih berusia yang kurang mahir dengan teknologi dan tidak mempunyai akses internet.

Ketua Pegawai Eksekutif ZPP, Amran Hazali, berkata kaedah itu diteruskan dengan mengikut Prosedur Operasi Standard (SOP) atau tatacara khas yang perlu dipatuhi amil dan pembayar zakat bagi mengekang penularan wabak COVID-19.

Beliau berkata, antara SOP atau tatacara khas yang perlu diikuti adalah penjarakan sosial dan larangan berkumpul bagi mematuhi PKP.

"ZPP berusaha mendapatkan nasihat daripada Jabatan Kesihatan Negeri Pulau Pinang (JKNPP) untuk melaksanakan kaedah bayaran zakat fitrah secara konvensional supaya semua amil yang dilantik boleh mengikuti garis panduan ini dengan mudah dan efektif," katanya pada sidang media di Ibu Pejabat ZPP dekat Bandar Perda, di sini, semalam.

Beliau berkata, pihaknya mengambil pendekatan baharu dengan meminta semua 994 amil berkunjung ke rumah ahli kariah masing-masing untuk mengutip zakat fitrah pada Ramadan ini.

KUALA LUMPUR: To support the country's efforts in combating the current Covid-19 outbreak, Etiqa Family Takaful Berhad will be providing government hospitals with a RM10mil contribution for more than 68,000 test kits.

Diagnostic testing is a valuable tool, and crucial in identifying infected patients who can then be treated or isolated.

With a greater number of Covid-19 test kits made available at government hospitals, people who are infected can be quickly isolated, thus reducing their contact with healthy people, and breaking the chain of transmission of Covid-19.

"Etiqa Family Takaful Berhad is pleased to support the fight against Covid-19 with the contribution of RM10mil towards more than 68,000 Covid-19 test kits," said Etiqa Family Takaful Berhad CEO Zafri Ab Halim.

"Government hospitals, which are at the frontline of the battle against Covid-19, will be receiving these vital kits to help identify those who are infected.

"We sincerely hope that this contribution will help the country in its fight against Covid-19.

"While those on the frontline are making sacrifices to safeguard our health and well-being, let's continue to play our part in breaking the chain of transmission by staying at home," he added.

Tough Year for Insurance Companies

Tough year for insurance companies

Covid-19 pandemic likely to dampen earnings and premium growth

By DALJIT DHESI
daljit@thestar.com.my

PETALING JAYA: Insurers are in for a tough year as the coronavirus disease (Covid-19) pandemic may dampen earnings and premium growth.

To minimise the impact on their businesses, insurance companies, among others, are banking on their digital capabilities in the absence of direct interaction between agents and their clients with the movement control order (MCO) in place.

Allianz Malaysia Bhd CEO Zakri Khir told StarBiz: "For the next six months at least, the market will be extremely challenging for insurers because this phenomenon is unprecedented and we are in uncharted waters.

"As for the general insurance industry, the impact will mainly be seen in travel policies as people are reluctant to make plans in view of travel restrictions.

"In terms of the company's motor business, policyholders will still need to renew their motor insurance policies so we will not see an immediate impact to our balance sheets," he said.

However, Zakri said the segment would also take a hit as manufactures and supply chains are impacted and new business from motor insurance would be slow.

Consumer sentiment is at all-time low, he said, adding that people would cut back on spending.

"Once the pandemic ends, we hope things will pick up and sales will recover," he said.

Motor insurance is a significant segment of Allianz Malaysia's general business and makes up 62.6% of its portfolio. The motor insurance business contributed RM1.38bil to the company's gross written premium (GWP) last year while the remaining RM821.4mil was from the non-motor business comprising property, health, personal accident, liability and marine.

"As for our life business, agents will find it difficult to transact face-to-face business due to mobility constraints and social distancing but this is where we have to rely on our digital channels to continue to do business.

"We have invested a lot into digital in the last few years and this will allow us to continue our business as usual.

"On the hindsight, the pandemic will trigger much more concern over health, presenting insurers an opportunity to boost healthcare policy sales and hopefully, increase health insurance penetration among Malaysians," Zakri said.

At the closed of trading, the company's shares rose 0.16% to RM12.54, with a market capitalisation of RM2.22bil.

For the year ended Dec 31, 2019, Allianz Malaysia's net profit rose to RM492.5mil against RM377mil the previous year.

Based on statistics from the Life Insurance Association of Malaysia, new business total premiums for 2019 stood at RM11.8bil, an increase of 14.19% compared to RM10.3bil in 2018.

Traditional business, investment-linked and group business recorded strong growth at 30.12%, 11.05% and 10.79% respectively.

The general insurance industry, on the other hand, registered a decline of 0.8% in 2019 with total gross direct premiums of RM17.41bil. Motor remained the largest class with a market share of 48.3% followed by fire at 19.3%.

Meanwhile, Syarikat Takaful Malaysia Keluarga Bhd group CEO Datuk Seri Mohamed Hassan Kamil said the pandemic and the MCO have posed challenges in achieving the company's business target for the year.

"We are unable to conduct business face to face in reaching out to our business partners and customers effectively during the MCO period.

"The mortgage takaful business may witness a slowdown due to the delay in loan processing during the MCO and more cautious property buying decisions among customers in view of the business environment uncertainty.

"However, we expect to see greater business opportunity in the takaful business for personal loans. Banks are targeting more personal loan business to address short-term financial needs of customers," he said.

Takaful Malaysia has implemented various digital strategies and infrastructure to develop the online business to further diversify its business portfolios in the last three years, he said.

Hassan expected further growth in its online motor takaful business as more customers have started to take advantage of the convenience of online transactions, especially during the MCO period.

"In 2019, we achieved a double-digit growth of 40% for our online motor takaful business. In addition to motor takaful, we have a full range of online protection products to meet various needs of the customers.

"We have rolled out our new Click for Cover mobile app recently," he said.

The Click for Cover mobile app caters for all protection needs in one application, especially during the pandemic outbreak.

Hassan said it has also increased its presence in social media to cross sell online products, especially targeting the customers who may not have access to intermediaries for face to face selling.

Currently, they can purchase additional coverages for life and medical via the portal, Click for Cover.

Hassan also said due to the company's small equity exposure, the impact from the massive drop in share prices has not affected Takaful Malaysia significantly.

"Companies with much larger equity exposure may suffer losses in excess of RM1bil and this will impact their solvency position in the short term.

"We have seen large fair value gains in our sukuk and fixed income portfolio mainly due to the drop in overnight policy rate. This has helped strengthen our capital adequacy ratio," he noted.

Syarikat Takaful Malaysia Keluarga Bhd is 59.5% owned by BIMB Holdings Bhd. For the financial year ended Dec 31, 2019, the company achieved a higher net profit of RM364.8mil compared with RM294.9mil in 2018.

The company's shares closed at RM3.29, 1.23% higher, representing a market capitalisation of RM2.72bil.

With the MCO, Etiqa Insurance and Takaful group CEO Kamaludin Ahmad said the company must be more "creative" on how to best serve the customers.

"We anticipate that with the enhanced ways, we can achieve flattish growth, otherwise if we had not implemented the new enhanced services, we may end the year with a contraction," he added.

In view of the reduction in the face-to-face meetings between the company's intermediaries and customers, Etiqa would primarily be leveraging its digital sales tools by intermediaries and online direct channels to ensure that sales and servicing activities could continue, Kamaludin said.

"We note that some customers will have difficulties paying premiums and if not addressed, it will lead to policy lapses for the customers or bad debts for us. So we are working on flexible payment options. For this, we have the support of the broader insurance industry as well," he said.

Etiqa achieved a record high GWP of RM8.0bil in 2019 with 61% from its life and family takaful sectors.

Etiqa is an insurance subsidiary of Malayan Banking Bhd (Maybank). Maybank has a 69.05% stake in Maybank Ageas Holdings Bhd, the holding company of Etiqa's Malaysian and Singaporean entities. Ageas Insurance International holds the remaining 30.95% stake in Maybank Ageas Holdings.
